PATRIOTIC AND CATHOLIC.

That Patriotism and Catholicism are synonymous was never more forcibly proven than upon the occasion of the installation of the Most Rev. John W. Shaw as Archbishop of New Orleans in St. Joseph's Cathedral. From his deep, thoughtful and patriotic address the following should bring joy to the American heart:

My dear friends, as I glance around this church I see in magnificent array the service flags of the parishes of this city. Oh, how pleased I was to see such a noble and glorious presentation of Catholic patriotism as represented in the thousands of stars on the flags which passed before me this evening. The Catholic church was never wanting in patriotism, for next to the love of God comes the love of country. Thank God, from the very beginning Catholics have ever been foremost in love of country. From the days when Catholic missionaries and Catholic priests went forth with Catholic explorers to bring the light of the gospel to those who wandered in darkness, from that day to this the sons of the Catholic church have always been distinguished for their love of country, have always made a glorious record. Numbers came across the seas animated with this great undying thought, "We will help to make America a glorious nation among the nations of the world, as the upholder of civil as well as religious liberty."

Our sons have gone across the seas to work as true and loyal Americans and if need be to lay down their lives in joyous sacrifice that the star of liberty may shine forever, that freedom may not perish from the face of the earth, and should they fall fighting for this glorious ideal, Catholic hands will weave the garlands of flowers and Catholics will write the epitaph, "Here lies in Catholic soil a Catholic boy who crossed the seas and gave his life for his country and his people. God bless our boys and God bless our flag and our President and rulers and give them light to counsel and guide our country safe in this hour of trial. God bless our soldiers who are fighting our battles, and strengthen their arms to bear our flag to victory. We must help them to bear their burdens, we must stand forth and encourage them to do their duty, to accomplish their great work, that America may be in the foremost rank, do her full part, and fulfill her great destiny as the upholder of liberty, the right of every man to a decent living, and the right of all men to civil and religious liberty. We must stand by our men in the army and navy.

We must win this war, we must never yield, we must win this war to reach success. If the war lasts ten years, America must fight to the finish. The Catholics of this country will ever uphold the United States in this fight. Our flag must triumph, victory must rest upon its folds. We must conquer the foe for the security of the peace and liberty of the world.

POOR HELP.

The True Voice, which knows the situation throughout Nebraska and the Northwest, places little confidence in this "movement" to have city business and professional men assist in farm work during the summer months. Too many regard farm work as a sort of summer vacation. As a matter of fact it is skilled work, and hard work at that. City men are not fitted for the work. They know nothing about it, and they could not endure it if they did. Few farmers would want to be pestered with such pretended helpers; and the "helpers" would have enough of the experience after four hours in a hot harvest field. While everyone should do all that he can to help win the war we should be reasonable even in our enthusiasm. And like conditions prevail here in Kentucky.

VIOLATES LAWS.

While arresting pro-Germans and placing the ban on seditious utterances who not grab the sneaky little sniveling Baptist in the Western Recorder, a local Baptist publication, who tries to create feeling by offering the following insult to the many Catholic boys who are at the front 'giving their all for the flag:

Somewhat the opinion is gaining credence that the Pope favors Germany in the present war. Some of the English papers have said as much. Not a few believe that the Kaiser has promised temporal power to the Pope in the event that he should gain the victory.

WATCH THE ENEMY.

Now that Oklahoma has set itself right on the matter of sacramental wine for Catholic churches, we trust that the enemy will not hatch any more "crow," for they shall be made to eat it. Father De Haesque, the Chancellor of the great and growing diocese of Oklahoma City, is deserving of much praise for the successful manner in which the case was prosecuted up to the Supreme Court, where it was buried for good. Now as a whisper, says the Catholic Advance, let the Catholics down there keep an eye on the condition of weather and don't venture into the storm without an umbrella. The Legislature that gave all this trouble had only one Catholic, and he a convert, among the members. Again we repeat: Keep an eye to windward.

WOULDN'T BE HERE.

The Republican candidate for Congress responded to the toast of "Why I Am a Junior," referring to the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, an A. P. A. society which opposes immigration. If the Junior Order's principles had been observed during his forefather's time the speaker wouldn't have been here now.

TEACH THE CHILD.

The parent who fails to teach a child to obey is a failure. It is not servile obedience that God requires, but loving obedience; and it is only by patience, gentleness and perseverance that a child can be taught to obey lovingly. But coddling never produces obedience; neither does it teach love; it destroys the child's character.

PRESIDENT PESTERED.

President Wilson has been pestered by some prohibition fanatics who would prevent necessary war activities until the President forbids the manufacture of beer and wines by executive order. A House amendment to the agricultural bill would prevent the expenditure of $6,000,000 except on this condition. This led the President to send a letter to Senator Sheppard declaring that he was opposed to further prohibition legislation at this time. He wants to win the war; but there are some shortsighted individuals who would rather the Kaiser should win the war than that their pet theories should be defeated. Such men are a real danger to the country.

PASS IT TO BOTH.

The good work of the Y. M. C. A., which has been so generously heralded over the country and deserves all that is said of it, has to its credit nearly all that is being done by the Knights of Columbus. In our Catholic papers there is just recognition of the work of both, but elsewhere it seems the first named has the ear of the people.

GEN. HALE'S APPRECIATION.

Before leaving Camp Taylor for Chillicothe, Ohio, Gen. Harry C. Hale, who had command of Camp Zachary Taylor, addressed the following self-explanatory letter of appreciation to Grand Knight Thomas D. Cline, of the Knights of Columbus: "Headquarters Division, June 7, 1918.—Mr. Thomas D. Cline, General Secretary, Knights of Columbus, Camp Zachary Taylor—My Dear Mr. Cline: I have your letter of June 2, and write to thank you for your kind expression of appreciation of my co-operation with the Knights of Columbus at this camp. My best wishes go with the Knights of Columbus and with all of you who are connected with it here. In your work you contribute a great deal to the comfort of the enlisted men and the facilities you offer them tend to soften the break that some of them must experience in being separated from their families and homes. With best wishes, I remain, yours very sincerely, "HARRY C. HALE, "Major General, N. A., Commanding."

EXHIBIT AMERICAN SPIRIT.

The little men whose homes are in Audubon Park, imbued with the patriotic spirit that has prevailed at Camp Zachary Taylor for the past year, organized among themselves the Audubon Athletic Association, which they conduct along lines that would do credit to such masters as Packey McFarland or Johnny Evers. The boys have developed into excellent tennis and golf players and boast a baseball team that has been victorious in every series they played. These little fellows now essay theatricals and a surprise for their parents and friends on next Thursday afternoon on the lawn of County Treasurer Thomas D. Cline, Robin Road. They have arranged for a social festival and the presentation of the comedy drama, "Turn Him Out," together with a number of specialties, and give promise of a really enjoyable entertainment. With the proceeds they will procure extra equipment and perhaps invest in War Savings Stamps. The members are Masters George Carver, Edwin Mercer, Maurice McKaia, Lloyd Price, Benedict Lasham, Nevill Blakemore, Samuel Dodd, George Castleman, Godwin Castleman, Francis Cassell, William Hugh and Thomas D. Cline, Jr.

PREPARE FOR FOURTH.

Slowly but surely the desire to aid in the preparations for the Fourth of July picnic for the orphans is taking hold of the majority of the Catholic people in the various parishes of the city, for they are coming in ever increasing numbers to the weekly meetings, offering their services and making the prospects brighter week by week for a brilliant financial and social success. Few of the parishes were absent in representation at the meeting Monday night, C. L. V. Frank reported that 5,000 tickets were ready for distribution and that they would be sent to the various parishes, where it is hoped the children would attempt to dispose of them, prizes being offered by Mr. Frank for the largest sales by the children. Miss Tillie M. Ouniff makes a special appeal for dolls of all kinds and descriptions for the novelty booth. Big, little, old, new or even crippled dolls will be thankfully received, as it is impossible to buy them, and there must be a doll booth for the little orphans. Any one desiring to donate may call Miss Ouniff at 6876 or Main 948, or write to her at 127 East Breckinridge, and she will be glad to send for the dolls. This committee will also have prize boxes in connection with the booth, and will appreciate articles of any kind. Persons who have articles about the house which they have no use for and which could be used are asked to send them to her. Five thousand buttons are now on hand and will be distributed at the church doors, parks and other places. The sales of Liberty bond combination cards are progressing satisfactorily, and all parishes that have not taken any are requested to send their representatives to the next meeting, stating how many they want. The burden of disposing of these cards must not be left to a few congregations, but all must lead a helping hand. Numerous donations were received and thankfully acknowledged. The Chairman of committees gave in the list of workers, and all expressed great confidence in having one of the most successful picnics in the history of the society this year.

SERVICE FLAG BLESSED.

The anniversary of St. Aloysius Society of St. Boniface church on the occasion of an impressive celebration last Sunday. Solemn high mass was sung at 7:30 in the morning, during which the members received holy communion in a very impressive manner. At 8 o'clock in the afternoon were followed by the blessing and dedication of a beautiful service flag bearing seventy-three stars. The Rev. Father Erasmus Dooley, who is an army chaplain stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor, was the celebrant of the mass, assisted by three other priests of the Franciscan order, who are also chaplains at the local camp. The service flag was dedicated in honor of seventy-two young men of the parish who are in the army or navy of the United States, and one young woman who is actively engaged as a Red Cross nurse. A special musical programme was rendered at both services.

DISPLAY MUSICAL TALENT.

The Presentation Academy orchestra gave a most pleasing concert Tuesday evening and the K. of C. hall was packed to the doors with the friends of this wonderful organization. The little folks display great talent in the musical line and reflect much credit on the Sisters who are teaching music at the Presentation Academy. Grand Knight Cline expressed his appreciation in a short talk after the concert and hoped that he hoped they would come back and entertain Louisville Council and its friends in the near future.

ANOTHER INITIATION.

On Sunday, June 30, Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, will have the third initiation of this year, and a great many applications have been received for this class. In account of the war activities there is a great demand for Knights of Columbus, and this is the reason so many initiations are being held by Louisville Council. Owing to the hot weather this will be the last exemplification of the work until the fall, and a most cordial invitation is extended to Catholic gentlemen to join this great Catholic society. State Deputy D. M. Cooper will have charge of this initiation, but it is not known at this time which degree team will do the work.

SERVICE FLAG RAISING.
At 4:30 next Sunday afternoon a beautiful service flag, a gift of the young ladies of the parish, will be dedicated and presented to Holy Trinity church at St. Matthews. The flag contains thirty-three stars in honor of thirty-three young men from the parish now serving their country in the United States army.

Hon. Edward J. McDermott, former Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, will be the speaker on the solemn occasion. The names of the young men are Martin, Henry, Irvin and Foster B. McFarland, Eugene Blanford, James Blanford, James Butler, William Breitenbach, Bernard Breitenbach, David Coffee, Frank Fehr, Aloysius Fehr, Aug. Ex-Representative George B. Barrett shied his casar into the ring for City Auditor this week, subject to the action of the Democratic party, and has already received many promises of support from different factions of the party, who believe he will be a strong candidate.

SCHOOL CLOSURES.

The closing exercises of St. Agnes school on the Newburg road, the parish attended by the Passionist fathers, will take place tomorrow. An excellent programme has been arranged.

WANTS THEIR NAMES.

The Chairman of St. Xavier's College Service Flag Committee requests all those who know of any St. Xavier boys who have entered the service since March to send or 'phone the names to St. Xavier's College as a second service flag list is being arranged.

NOW INSURANCE MAN.

John M. Riley, President of Division 3, A. O. H., and well known in Catholic fraternal circles, has gone into the insurance field, now being a solicitor for the Commonwealth Life Insurance Company. John comes from that type of hustlers who are on the go all the time, and with encouragement from his many and loyal friends his success should be assured.

NEW SONG OUT.

Prof. Creager's new patriotic song, "I Love My Liberty Boy," is now from the press and before the public. The song is spirited and the music catchy, and will doubtless be adopted for a marching tune. It should prove popular and have a great sale.

TRINITY UNFURLING.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., will unfurl its service flag at the meeting of Monday, June 24, and President V. K. Becker invites members and brother Y. M. I. to be present. The service flag will consist of seventy-five stars, that many members of Trinity Council now being in military service.

FERRY GAINS FAVOR.

Fontaine Ferry was the pleasure spot for thousands this week, who enjoyed the open air concerts, the dancing hall, the merry garden, kiddieland and the restaurant. The theater, however, continues the attraction for the greatest number and is in high favor with the public. Next week's bill offers Bob Hall, the three Natalie Sisters, Ziska and King, Burnes and Jose and Hobson and Beatty.

REMARKABLE SCHOLAR.

Among the class of graduates from a private school at Paducah was Miss Earlene Phelps, fourteen years old, one of the most remarkable scholars Mrs. John J. Doylan, the Superintendent, ever knew. Miss Phelps was the youngest graduate the school ever had. All of her final grades were nearly 100. She is the daughter of E. C. Phelps, a well known business man of Paducah.
